CYSS CONNECTIONS

Military Kids Connect

Military youth live in a world of constant change and experience many challenges including multiple deployments of Family members and frequent moves to new schools and neighborhoods. Military Kids Connect (MKC) is an interactive website for military youth to help with the unique needs that are part of the military lifestyle. MKC offers a well designed and easy to use online community for military children age 6-17 years old. This interactive web page provides access to age-appropriate resources to support children. MKC has online sections for kids ages 6-8, tweens ages 9-12, and teens ages 13-17. Each online environment offers informative activities, fun games, helpful videos, and resources that are categorized by age group. These online modules reinforce understanding, resilience, and coping skills for military children. In addition, there are helpful links and resources designed specifically for teachers and parents/caregivers. Youth can share their ideas, experiences, and suggestions with other military children through the new feature of a discussion board. This allows youth to connect with other military children and to know they are not alone in dealing with the stressors of military life.

CYSS Mission: To support readiness and quality of life by reducing the conflict between military mission requirements and parental responsibilities

4-H Military Partnerships: Supporting Military Youth through Collaborations

4-H Military Partnerships create opportunities and provide support to military connected youth whether they live on or near an installation, in a community, or on an overseas installation. 4-H clubs and opportunities provide consistency in belonging and an opportunity to develop life skills through a positive youth development framework.

4-H Military Partnerships represent a collaboration of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the National Institute of Food and Agriculture, the U.S. Department of Defense, the Military Community and Family Policy, Army Child, Youth and School Services, Air Force Child and Youth Programs, Navy Child and Youth Programs, the Coast Guard, and the National Guard Bureau. The 4-H Military Partnerships support military youth through collaboration with military partners providing 4-H Clubs, afterschool programs, camps, activities, and events on military installations and in local communities.

Military youth have unique issues including frequent relocations, adjusting to new communities and schools, separation anxiety regarding the safety of a deployed parent, and increased responsibilities at home especially when a parent is deployed. 4-H provides a safe, educational supportive environment for the youth to come to after school when they are more likely to make poor choices or follow the crowd. It can also empower youth to be able to stand up to bullies and others that may be trying to get them to participate in risky behaviors.

The 4-H Program is built upon four Essential Elements ensuring that youth feel a sense of belonging in a safe environment, develop independence in both group and individual work, share with others in the community through generosity, and develop a sense of mastery that continues throughout life as they practice and share what they have learned with others. These programs have served youth in all military branches and components. These programs educate the public about the unique challenges of military youth; recruit volunteers; train educators, volunteers, and military youth program staff on the impact of deployment and 4-H curriculum.

As military families move frequently and experience the difficulties surrounding deployment and reintegration, 4-H provides predictable programming and a safe and nurturing environment for military connected children and youth. 4-H provides a support network delivering recreational, social and providing quality developmental programs so military members can pursue their critical assignments.

Army Reserve Family Programs CYSS offered many events in April, the Month of the Military Child. These events and art contests were designed to recognize and applaud Families and their children for the sacrifices they make in supporting America's Army.

April 15th is recognized as Purple Up! for Military Kids Day. Staff and youth wore purple in support of Military children. Purple symbolizes all branches of the military, as it is a combination of Army green, Marine red, Coast Guard navy and Air Force blue.

Command/Unit Updates

Month of the Military Child 2015

The 103rd Sustainment Command (Expeditionary) celebrated Month of the Military Child on 24 April 2015 with two events in Des Moines, Iowa.

Soldiers and Families began their day at the State of Iowa Historical Museum visiting the exhibits on display with special focus on the numerous military exhibits currently featured.

The tour began at the USS Iowa Interpretive Panels. The lead designer of the panels worked with historians from the USS Iowa to create 10 hand-painted murals based on historic photos and documented naval history. The result is an artistic and educational display about the history of the USS Iowa. The visual storytelling found in the vividly rendered original works brings to life every rope, anchor, nut and bolt aboard ship. After their display at the State Historical Museum, the 10 panels will make their permanent home aboard the USS Iowa, completing the educational museum portion of the ship.

Next, Frank Hanna, a museum volunteer and Civil War reenactor, joined the group and provided a guided tour of the "Civil War: Nothing But Victory" exhibit and Battle Flag Hall. Dressed in an authentic Civil War uniform, Hanna shared with the group stories on the more than 300 significant artifacts and documents in the 10,000 square-foot exhibition that recounts the first-hand experiences of Iowans at war and the communities that supported them. The group experienced the historic battle flags Iowa soldiers carried and the actual weaponry – cannons, guns and swords – they used while fighting in some of the most important events and turning points of the Civil War.

The group also viewed A Service to Silver: Tribute to the USS Iowa exhibit, the stunning 40-piece silver service that was presented by Iowa to the U.S. Navy in 1896 for the then newly-commissioned USS Iowa battleship.

Soldiers and Families then moved to the Iowa State Capitol to join with the Iowa National Guard for the annual proclamation signing by Iowa Governor Terry E. Branstad. After the proclamation signing, COL Ruth E. Aponte, on behalf of BG Jonathan J. McCollum, presented each 103rd ESC youth present with a Certificate of Appreciation for being an awesome military child.

For Deployed, AGR, Wounded, Ill, Injured or Fallen Soldiers

Army Fee Assistance will be provided by General Services Administration (GSA) working with those who serve in the military find and afford child care that suits their unique needs. Through the fee assistance program, families are eligible to receive monthly fee assistance to help offset the cost of child care in their communities. For more information visit, http://financeweb.gsa.gov/childcare_portal.

Army Respite Care The Army Respite Child Care will provide the family between 8 to 16 hours of hourly child care each month for each of the eligible children. Parents can use this time to run errands, attend appointments, or just take some well-deserved time out for themselves. The Army recognizes the challenges and extraordinary stress the parents and their families may be experiencing, and wants to help support them in meeting their unique child care needs. Eligibility: Deployed; Temporary Change of Station; Unaccompanied Permanent Change of Station; Temporary Duty; Wounded, Ill or Injured Status; Survivors of Fallen Warriors.
